

Character name:

DIALOGUE WORKSHEET

What do they say in greeting? Do they accompany it with a physical gesture ... and does this change depending on the circumstance/person they're speaking to?

What do they say in farewell? Do they accompany it with a physical gesture? Does it change according to circumstance?

Do they curse and which words will/won't they use?

Is there any recurring slang used in their dialogue?

What expression or term would they use in shock? Would they say Oh God, or do they not take that name lightly?

Do they use contractions or tend to speak more formally?

Do they speak in short sentences or longer, more eloquent ones?

Character name:

DIALOGUE WORKSHEET

Is this character prone to metaphors and/or analogies, and which ones do they tend to use?

What sort of things might they say during an intimacy scene?

Do they um/er/ah ... or are they more to the point?

How does their level of education and social standing impact their speech?

What sort of speech would they use if they were hurt physically and/or emotionally?

How does their past impact their speech? Has it changed over time and do they slip back into old habits at any time?

What's one thing your character would never say?
